

Even amber came from somewhere else.

Net gintaras atkeliavo iš kitur.

Nobody asks amber where it's from.
Local or international, you belong here too.

Niekas neklausia gintaro, iš kur jis. Vietinis ar tarptautinis: čia visi savi.

Baltic amber, "Lithuanian gold", formed some 40 million years ago from the resin of forests that grew far to the north. An ancient river, the Eridanos, carried it to the sea. Every autumn, storms still wash it onto the beaches of Melnragė and Giruliai.
